Dear Mr. Fréchette:

Thank you for your letter, dated September 23rd, 2014, requesting further information pertaining to the snapshot employment numbers of the federal public service.

Please find enclosed tables, sourced from the Regional Pay System (RPS), listing population counts for March 2013 and March 2014 for the federal public service with a breakdown by department/agency, occupational group and level (classification code).

Please note that due to system limitations within the RPS, some population counts are missing a classification code or the classification code is incorrect. Furthermore, a number of occupational groups listed belong to separate agencies. If you require additional information on occupational groups from separate agencies, you will have to contact these organizations directly, since the Treasury Board Secretariat is not the employer for separate agencies.

For the purpose of your analysis, please further note that during the reporting period, there were some changes to departments and agencies in the federal public service (for example, as a result of re-organizations), as well as historical changes to occupational groups (e.g., as a result of introducing new occupational group or revisions to existing occupational groups) and to occupational group levels (e.g., as a result of re-classifications).

Reference documents for the core public administration are enclosed for your information: a table of concordance that provides a historical record of classification codes in use since 1999 as well as the list of current classification codes.

Yours sincerely,

Yaprak Baltacıoğlu
